The ancient provinces of France are named on the map. The figures in the above table indicate the departments and correspond with the figures on the map.

The ancient kingdoms and modern provinces of Spain are shown on the map, the names of the latter are the same as their respective capitals, except the three Basque provinces Alava, Biscay, and Guipuzcoa the capitals of which are respectively Vitoria Bilbao and Tolosa.

The capitals of the departments of France and the provinces of Spain and Portugal are represented thus ◎

PRESIDIOS.

The Spanish Presidios in Morocco, Ceuta, Penon de Velez, Albucemas and Mellila are used chiefly as places of banishment for criminals. The Presidios have belonged to Spain since the year 1580.
